

ALEXANDRIA.

TUESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 27.

revenue reformers of the present day, in as much as it was only about half as high as the existing republican tariff; and, it must not be forgotten, that then the protected industries were infants.

THE FARMERS are told by the protectionists that their prosperity depends upon a home market, and that a protective tariff, by promoting manufacturing industries, affords them such a market. Well, the farmers have had a protective tariff for the last twenty-six years, and yet if they were ever worse off than they are now they don't remember it. Then, too, if farmers be not densely ignorant they must know that the price of their products is fixed not by the home, but by the foreign market.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27, 1887.

Mr. B. S. Platt, formerly of the Government printing office, then engaged upon the preparation of the records of the "War of the Rebellion," and more recently assigned to the office of the U. S. Senate, was to-day appointed engrossment clerk of that body, vice Major Simpson, who died last week.

A democrat from Warren county, Va., here to-day, says a majority of the delegates to the convention to nominate a democratic candidate for the legislature in the district composed of Warren and Clarke counties are in favor of Mr. A. M. McDonald, of the latter county, who has issued a circular taking decided ground against the Roanoke platform.

The President has appointed Francis M. Hagan, postmaster at Springfield, O., vice James Johnson, sr., removed.

It is understood here to-day that the proposed National Catholic University will not be erected on the site recently selected for it, just north of the Soldiers' Home, as the land doesn't lie right, and as there is some doubt about the title. The committee to determine the matter definitely has not yet met, but will do so in a short time. When it meets the offer of Mr. Frank Hume to present the University with an eligible site of twenty-five acres on the line of the proposed Mt. Vernon avenue will be considered.

Ex-Congressman Barbour, chairman of the democratic State committee of Virginia, told the GAZETTE's correspondent to-day that all the letters he received, and he was in receipt of them from all quarters of the State, were favorable to the democratic cause; that the strongest and most available men were being nominated for the legislature in the several counties, and that the little differences that had been caused by a few of the nominations, either had been, or would soon be settled. Mr. Barbour said, in reference to Judge Stuart's withdrawal as a candidate in Alexandria, that it had been intimated to him that the Judge was under the impression that he, Barbour, was opposed to him, but that there never was a more incorrect idea; that he is now and always had been the Judge's friend; that he thought the Judge would be as strong a candidate as any one else, and that if the Judge would consent to run it would be his pleasure to promote his election to the utmost extent of his ability.

A gentleman at the Capitol to-day said General Hinton, of Virginia, meeting his friend, Congressman Mills, of Texas, here, advised him to modify and explain his late designation of the platform of the Virginia democracy as a "republican platform," and that Mr. Mills said he would do both, and proceeded to tell him how he would do so, but that after hearing him for a few moments, the General told him he reckoned it would be better to let the matter stand as it was.

Some of Mr. Frank Hume's friends made another effort to-day to induce him to say he would accept the democratic nomination for the Virginia legislature in Alexandria city and county if tendered him, but with what result is not known.

The decision of the U. S. Circuit Court at Boston yesterday dismissing the suit brought by Attorney General Garland to enjoin the Bell Telephone Company from using the name of "Bell Telephone," is the subject of no little talk here to-day, and it is needless to say, that talk is not favorable to Mr. Garland, by reason of the fact that he is the owner of a million and a half stock in another telephone patent for which he never paid a cent.

COURT OF APPEALS AT STAUNTON, 26TH.—After adjournment on the 23d, it was arranged between counsel to close the argument at that time in the case of the W. & O. and W. V. Railroad Company and submit it.

Flick vs. Fridley. From Rockingham. Submitted on briefs.

Roanoke National Bank, &c., vs. F. Rorer, &c. Appeal and supersedeas refused.

John F. Acker vs. The Alexandria and Fredericksburg Railroad. From Alexandria. Writ of error awarded and certified to the clerk at Richmond.

A FRIGHTFUL FALL.—Mr. James L. Perry, one of the millers at the Germania Mills, stepped on the platform of a car of the excursion train that passed through here Monday morning about 3 o'clock, and was either pushed from the cars or in attempting to step from the train, as it was crossing the high bridge over the river, fell a distance of thirty or forty feet and received painful, if not fatal injuries.

Mr. Perry laid in an unconscious condition where he fell until daylight, when some of the train hands who witnessed his fall, returned and reported they had seen him as he went down. When found his watch was gone, either stolen after he had fallen or some one on the train robbed him and then pushed him from the train. Had the accident occurred a moment later Perry would probably have drowned, as the river is deep at the point where it is spanned by the bridge.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

THE CORRECT POSITION FOR WALTZING. At the session of the dancing masters' convention, held recently, the correct position for waltzing was defined. It was decided that the gentleman should hold the lady with his right forearm, placing his hand flat against the back. No part of his arm above the elbow should come in contact with her body. The lady's left hand should rest upon the gentleman's arm, about four inches from the shoulder. Her right arm should be held out perfectly straight at an angle of about forty-five degrees from the body. Her right hand should rest in the gentleman's palm with the knuckles uppermost. It is necessary that the lady shall not bend her right elbow, otherwise they will fail to give the mutual support which is a requisite of good dancing.—N. Y. Sun.

ILL INFORMED and disingenuous supporters of protection express great wonder that people once whigs should now favor a revenue tariff. If they knew what they were talking about, and were frank enough to express that knowledge, they would be compelled to change their tune, for the old whig tariff would be perfectly satisfactory to the

At the conclusion of the argument for the defense the case was adjourned until to-day, when the district attorney will present the closing argument and the case will be submitted to the court.

It is stated, however, that Mr. Davis's health is not good, and the jarring of the railroad cars affects him very much. Every effort will be made to get Mr. Davis to visit Richmond and he says he will come if he can possibly do so.

Thomas Snead, a convict in the penitentiary, after serving nearly the whole of a seven years' term in that prison, has through counsel applied to Judge Wellford for a writ of habeas corpus. Snead pleaded guilty of house-breaking in the County Court of Botetourt in 1881, and waived a trial by jury. He claims that no jury was summoned to fix the term of his imprisonment, and he was sentenced by the judge for a term of seven years. The Court of Appeals, in a case passed upon a year ago, decided that an accused cannot waive a trial by jury. Snead will no doubt be discharged.

THE TOP OF THE CARRIAGE WHEEL.—Instantaneous photography has been employed by a London photographer to demonstrate to the eye that the upper part of a carriage wheel in motion goes faster than the lower part. In the photograph the lower ends of the spokes, adjacent to the ground, are not rendered indistinct by the motion, while the tops of the upper spokes are. Instantaneous photography will receive the thanks of all editors for setting this question beyond the possibility of further asking.

A half-grown chicken in Richmond, Mo., got into an altercation with a grass snake eighteen inches long. The chicken pecked away at the snake furiously for a few moments, and then, gathering the head of his snakeship in his mouth, essayed to swallow him whole. But the snake obstinately refused to go down. Finding he could not swallow the snake, which had tightly curled its tail around his bill, the chicken disgorged it, and pecking at it a few more times he made a second and successful effort.

Sidney Morse, the sculptor, of Boston, who has been at work for several weeks upon a statuette of President Cleveland, has just completed the model and has had his first cast made. The figure is about thirty inches high, and represents the President standing in an easy attitude, resting upon his right foot, with his left hand behind his back. His right hand hangs easily at his side, and holds a slip of paper. Despite the rotundity and stoutness of his form, President Cleveland's figure presents excellent proportions and makes a fine statue, with many good qualities from an artistic standpoint.

Several weeks ago a young lady and her mother went to Findlay, O., from Michigan to visit friends. There the young woman met a young man who pleased her, and soon they were engaged to be married. Her lover begged for an immediate marriage, and the girl consented and a day was set, but a friend of the girl stepped in at the last hour and proved that the groom was a burglar, liable to arrest at any time and imprisonment in the penitentiary. There was an exciting scene and the wedding party broke up.

The superstition that human beings should sleep with their heads to the north is believed by the French to have for its foundation a scientific fact. They affirm that each human system is in itself an electric battery, the head being one of the electrodes, the feet the other. Their proof was discovered from experiments which the Academy of Sciences was allowed to make on the body of a man who was guillotined. This was taken the instant it fell and placed upon a pivot free to move as it might. The head part, after a little vacillation, turned to the north, and the body then remained stationary. It was turned half way around by one of the professors, and again the head end of the trunk moved slowly to the cardinal point due north, the same results being repeated until the final arrestation of organic movement.

THE PRESIDENT'S TARIFF VIEWS.—A statement is published of the President's views as to the tariff question and his duty in the premises. The Oak View conference was to determine how far the President might go in his recommendation to Congress on the subject. The President holds that the function of devising tariff legislation does not belong to the Executive but to Congress, and that all he can do is to urge upon that body the performance of its obvious duty in ascertaining the people some relief from their burdens. In the meantime, for the information of Congress, the Treasury Department is preparing a comparative statement showing the duties on every article under the last three tariff acts, the amount of revenue produced, the cost of collection and the classes of citizens to be benefited by retention of the present rate.

DEATH OF AN AFRICAN CHIEF.—Edmund Montgomery died in Nick Jordan's place, near the county line of Seelye, Ga., aged 102 years. He was an African chief of the Asakiri tribe, and was brought to Virginia from Africa in 1867, when he was a stalwart young man. He had a large family in Virginia, and when he died he left his third wife and twenty-five children in Georgia. His grand-children and great-grand-children are unknown and unnumbered. He had remarkably good eyesight and health, and never took a dose of medicine in his life. He had teeth like ivory and every one was in his head at the time of his death.

This is to express my sincere thanks for the benefit I have experienced from the use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. I had a severe and aggravating cough so that I could scarcely talk—after using one small bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, it not only cured my cough but strengthened my sore chest. I take great pleasure in testifying to the efficacy of the Syrup and heartily recommend it.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The International Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The international yacht race was sailed to-day over the regular course of the New York Yacht Club, starting off Bay Ridge and passing down through the Narrows across the lower bay and out to Sandy Hook Lightship; returning over the same course and finishing just below Staten Island, a distance of 33 miles.

FORT WADSWORTH, Sept. 27.—The Thistle crossed the line at 12:35 and the Volunteer one minute later. The wind is light and variable, veering to westerly.

12:57.—The Thistle has a good full wind, but is not moving as lively as her rival.

The Volunteer at 1 p. m. was running about six miles an hour. The Thistle was a full mile astern and making slow headway.

2:05 p. m.—The Thistle now seems to be not more than half a mile behind, but is to leeward.

2:10 p. m.—From the way the Thistle is moving along it would seem to be a close race.

2:15.—The wind has gone around to the southeast and is freshening a little. The Volunteer is leading the Thistle three-quarters of a mile.

2:40 p. m.—The yachts are heading for the Sandy Hook light ship. They are about the point of the Hook, with the Volunteer apparently six minutes in the lead. Wind very light.

The Volunteer rounded the Sandy Hook lightship twenty minutes ahead of her rival. The Thistle is far astern and is badly beaten.

Mutiny of Convicts.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 27.—For some reason the full particulars of the mutiny of the convicts at Coal creek cannot be obtained. The Knoxville Iron Company is very reticent about the affair. An inspector has returned from the mines, and says the troubles have been settled. On last Thursday at the dinner hour, the convicts refused to leave the mines. They claimed that the food was so bad and the tasks so heavy that they could no longer endure it and that they would remain in the mines until better fare and more humane treatment were promised. The guards would promise nothing and the convicts refused to move an inch. Every effort was made to remove them to the stockade peacefully, but they held out against the threats and entreaties born of desperation. Then, it is said, the guards fired into them, wounding several negroes, but this is denied. At any rate, Friday afternoon they shut off the ventilation and on Saturday afternoon the convicts yielded to the men. The closing of the ventilation shaft drove them to the mouth of the mine and there they crowded around the opening, fighting among themselves for front seats. They endured the most excruciating torture before giving up, and it is said several of them were entirely exhausted when they surrendered. Mr. Burrows states that everything is quiet and that he apprehends no further trouble.

The Race Trouble in Texas.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 27.—Owing to the lack of facilities on the railroad leading to Brazoria county, the Houston Light Guards did not get away for the seat of the negro insurrection until nine o'clock last night and cannot reach Caney creek before noon to-day. Captain Reichardt took twenty men with him with a large quantity of ammunition. Another company is held in reserve here awaiting further orders from the Governor. Alarming reports which could not be traced to any reliable source were in circulation last night as to the seriousness of the conflict which took place yesterday morning between the negroes and Sheriff Hickey's posse. Nothing positive was known here up to a late hour last night about the fight or how many were killed, but it was reported that several negroes were killed. Brazoria and Matagorda counties are largely populated by negroes, and many bloody race battles have been fought in both counties during the past ten years, especially during election seasons. Caney creek settlement, where the present trouble originated, is in the extreme southeastern corner of Matagorda county, 35 miles west of Columbia, the county seat of Brazoria county. There are no telegraph lines in that county, and news of the fight will be carried to Columbia by couriers.

New York Democrats.

SARATOGA, Sept. 27.—The democratic State convention, called to nominate State officers, met to-day in the Casino Rink. At 12:30 the gavel fell and D. Cady Herrick, in the absence of C. C. B. Walker, detained by illness, called the convention to order and nominated Hon. George Raines, ex-Senator from the Rochester district, temporary chairman. The motion was carried unanimously, and Judge Miller and ex-Mayor Edward Cooper, of New York, were appointed a committee to conduct Mr. Raines to the chair. He was received with applause and when it subsided he addressed the convention.

Outlaws Killed.

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Sept. 27.—Sheriff Wm. Melvorn and party met John Graham and Charles Blevins, outlaws, in Pleasant Valley last Thursday. The sheriff ordered them to surrender, which being refused both were killed. The sheriff now has a posse of seventy-five men, and says that the Tonto Basin must be righted. All the Tewksbury faction not killed have surrendered to the sheriff. Only one of Graham's men is alive, and he is wounded.

The Irish Troubles.

CORK, Sept. 27.—A number of the rails on the railway between Cork and Youghal, which the police must traverse in order to reach the Ponsobly estates from Cork for the purpose of aiding in the evictions to be executed there to-day, were torn up last night. The telegraph wires were also cut. Capt. Plunkett has arrived at Youghal to superintend the evictions, but no troops have got there yet.

Mrs. Parsons.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The postponed hearing of the charge against Mrs. Parsons for violating the city ordinance prohibiting the distribution of handbills on the streets, took place before Justice Lyon this morning. It imposed a fine of $5, but immediately suspended it and Mrs. Parsons went away looking well satisfied.

Fifteen Thousand Signatures.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Up to to-day the actual returns on the petition for clemency to the condemned anarchists, as far as they have been turned in to the secretary of the Amnesty Association, show about fifteen thousand signatures. On the list for preachers are the names of two prominent Jewish divines.

Preparing to Receive the President.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 27.—The citizens of Chattanooga are highly pleased at the decision of President Cleveland to stop here on his way to Atlanta, and preparations are being made for a great demonstration in honor of the occasion.

Collision.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—A passenger train on the Iron Mountain Railway ran into a freight train standing on a side track near Walnut Ridge, yesterday. Both locomotives were wrecked, but nobody was injured.
